Shop! members include leading POP producers from around the world. Here, 15 such members present their POP capabilities. Over half offer all three types of displays: permanent, temporary, and semi-permanent. All offer display design/engineering and prototyping. Most offer interactive displays and signage design, and many can design shop-in-shops and coordinate delivery of their products to the stores. Graphics design, packaging design, and packet/kitting/assembly services each are offered by more than half of respondents, and nearly half can integrate electronics into their displays.

As Shop! works to advance the industry’s sustainability, we asked producers if they offer recycling of their displays. At this point, only a few respondents indicated that they do, but this is only one aspect of their sustainable efforts. Watch for our Sustainability Guide in our November/December issue, when Shop! members of all stripes will be asked to quantify their greenness.

Visit supplierconnect.shopassociation.org to contact these producers and other POP producer members that did not respond to our invitation to be included in this guide.
